Bridal Show at Days Inn- February 16th

It's Official - I will be at the Bridgewater Days Inn Bridal Show on February 16th from 12:30pm-3:00pm, sharing a booth with my very talented daughter, Samantha. She is the best nail tech around and anyone who has been to her will verify that fact.

Hope to see you there.

Please let any of your friends or family know to check us out if they are engaged to be married. I will be promoting the fact that Custom stationery and favor boxes can be made here at the studio by myself, or by any customer for a small fee.

There is quite a selection of invitation shapes to choose from including specialty shapes like diapers and corsets-fun for shower invites.

A Year on Record-2014 Weekly Journal

How did you make out for January? Did you get a page for each week? Even if you just did one or two, that is progress. Some weeks may not have much to record or maybe nothing at all happened for a week, maybe you won't need a full page or maybe it was super busy and you need two. You can use smaller pages or partial pages or just have two weeks on one page. The point is let's do this. Whatever you have done will be a treasure at the end of the year. We all love seeing inspiration, share your pages with me on Facebook to help inspire us all. Pinterest is a great place, as well, for ideas.

Have you been wanting to get scrapbooking but just don't have the space or the tools to get started. I can help. I have a studio where you can come and use my tools and space and get scrappy happy for several hours at a time. Create a scrapbook, make some cards, with hundreds of stamps, and hundreds of dies you get creative and you won't have to clear the dining room table to do so, and then clear it again to eat. The studio has an Accucut Grand Mark, a Big Shot, A Cricut, various trimmers, a variety of punches, scissors, Crop o Dile, Big Bite, Corner Chompers, Stencils, and so much more. If you are unfamiliar with a particular tool, just ask for a demonstration and I will show you how easy they are to use. Maybe I will have a tip to make it's use easier, or maybe you will have a tip to share. It's all about helping you get your memories recorded.
